

Jason Standiford

Chief Technology Officer

Jason brings 20+ years of experience working at Silicon Valley technology companies. Jason started off as a hands-on software engineer building scalable data services for various startups in Silicon Valley. After a decade of writing code, he discovered his passion for technology leadership and shifted his focus to building best-in-class development teams & software development processes to drive business growth.

Jason has a passion for building teams & scalable software that serves the hospitality industry to help increase direct booking Revenue. Jason has a passion for auto-racing, skiing, and watching cartoons with his 3 young children.